A partridge? On a Tuesday?

- 95 cards
- 5 player boards
- 1 toast board
- 30 tokens

Role-playing

Two cards are shown. The left card has a light blue top half with the text "I'm very full of blamanche" and a bottom half with a purple and white geometric pattern. The right card has a white top half with the text "What a splendid trout!" and a bottom half with a black and white pattern of fan-like shapes. Both cards are tilted and set against a red background with a white border.

A Toast!
I am very full of blamanche.

I will now sing to you...

An illustration of a man and a woman in 1920s-style formal wear seated at a round table. The man, on the left, is wearing a black tuxedo with a white shirt and a black bow tie. He is holding a white plate with green food. The woman, on the right, is wearing a red sleeveless dress, a black headband with a feather, and a long pearl necklace. She is holding a white plate with a brown food item. The table is set with white plates, silverware, and glasses. A centerpiece of red flowers in a gold vase sits on the table. The background is white with a red border on the left.

The game ends when the tokens run out. Most tokens wins.
